Lebanon County Democratic Committee Invites Local Dems to Spring Dinner

Friday, April 7, 2017, 5 p.m.

Hebron Fire Co Banquet Hall, 701 E. Walnut St., Lebanon, PA 17042

Lebanon, Pa. (March 7, 2017) - In anticipation of an exciting election cycle in 2017, the Lebanon County Democratic Committee (LCDC) invites all local Democrats to attend their annual Spring Dinner, held this year on the evening of April 7.

“I am pleased to invite all Lebanon County Democrats to the Committee’s spring dinner,” said Lois Herr, LCDC Chair. “Our mission to elect local Democrats is fueled in part by the fundraising efforts of this event, and we also look forward to providing Democrats an opportunity to meet with their local candidates for a fun and informative evening.”

The LCDC’s Spring Dinner will be held at the Hebron Fire Co. banquet hall, located at 701 E. Walnut Street in Lebanon. Doors open at 5 p.m. for a cash bar cocktail hour, with the plated dinner and program beginning at 6 p.m. During the program portion of the evening, attendees can look forward to appearances by local Democratic candidates and special guests. Following the program, enjoy cocktails (cash bar) and live jazz music by Dr. M and the rhythm.bots, a Lebanon County-based band.

Tickets are $40 per person, and can either be purchased online at www.lebanondemocrats.com or by mailing a check payable to Lebanon County Democratic Committee, mailed to PO Box 1128, Lebanon, PA 17042. Sponsorship opportunities are also available for private citizens, PACs, and/or labor unions.

About the Lebanon County Democratic Committee

The goal of the Lebanon County Democratic Committee is to help local candidates by ensuring they have the resources and support needed to spread their messages and earn votes. We strive to be a reliable support system for knowledge of and guidance through the election process in order to ensure the principles of American values, social justice and forward-thinking have a home in Lebanon county.
