

FRAN RASSOULI – CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I am pursuing the office of County Commissioner to serve all people in Lebanon County and make a positive impact. I bring my extensive managerial experience with an educational perspective to County Government.

My focus will be on children, senior citizens, veterans, education, and access to services. I was raised to believe that each person should serve the public at some time in their life and utilize their knowledge and experience to improve the human condition.

This is my opportunity to serve the people of Lebanon County for the next four years. My plan is to mentor and support future Commissioners and not to seek election for more than two terms of office.

I plan to visit our boroughs, townships, and city residents and listen to their specific challenges, ideas, and needs. If elected, I plan to make a full-time commitment serving as a Commissioner for the next four years.

My managerial and work experience includes managing a family-owned restaurant, then working as a Realtor, an Insurance Agent, and an Activity Director in a personal care facility. I also worked in retail and put myself through college to become a teacher. I served as a teacher in Lebanon County for several years at the elementary and secondary levels. Then as a Special Education Consultant, I served all six school districts in Lebanon County. I continued my career as an administrator and served as Director of Special Education. I have several certifications in the state of Pennsylvania including Elementary Education, Special Education, Principal, Supervisor, and Letter of Eligibility. I earned a Doctorate Degree in Educational Leadership and currently teach classes for Immaculata University as part-time professor.

As a resident of South Londonderry Township, I am active in community events and organizations such as serving as a past president for the Lebanon Valley American Association of University Women, serving as a committee member for Special Olympics, serving on dissertation committees, and mentoring adult learners.

I believe public service needs to include an outreach agenda for encouraging and mentoring young people in our county to become involved and participate in our local government. I plan to support programs and opportunities for our young citizens to become aware of how our county is governed with the goal of growing future County Commissioners. Please contact me with issues related to the County government at 717-433-2576. I am looking forward to hearing for you and meeting you at the local meetings on Tuesday evenings.
